Preliminary remarks

Beginning in the USA and, over the past 35 years, subsequently spreading in Europe as well, a new retail format has been established: the Outlet Centre. In the meantime, such a high density of Outlet Centres already exists in some European countries (e.g. United Kingdom), that one can certainly speak of market saturation there. Thus, in the UK, as in the USA also, a market shakeout is observable among Outlet Centres, whereby the most professional operators, and accordingly suitable sites succeed against less productive concepts or centres with weaknesses.

The situation in continental Europe is somehow different. Due what are, to date, extremely restrictive building permission procedures compared to those in the rest of Europe, Germany still has rather few Outlet Centres in relation to the size of its national market. However, there is little doubt that this will change in the medium-term perspective, at least.

Whereas Germany still shows some potential for new Outlet Centres, Italy has seen a rapid development in the last years, and it's difficult to discover any "white spots" on the map there. The same applies to Switzerland and Austria. In the Central and East European Countries (CEE) the development took up pace but slowed down again during and after the various crises of the last decade or two (e.g. credit crunch, Corona, war in Ukraine). So still there are significant differences on the development of Outlet Centres and the numbers of such centres in the European countries.

For almost 20 years now, ecostra is publishing this survey on Outlet Centres in Europe. Gathering reliable market-data requires a clear definition of the subject of investigation. Starting with the December 2014 issue, ecostra adapted the definition of this retail format to new developments in the outlet markets, in particular the up-coming outlet-hybrids (e.g. Value Centres, Outlet Agglomerations). Since, the definition of an Outlet Centre is:¹

*Outlet Centres are an agglomeration of many outlet store units within a coordinately-planned or a spatially-interrelated complex of buildings with more than 5,000 m² retail sales area (= approx. 6,000 m² GLA) and with more than 20 outlet stores. There brand manufacturers and vertically-integrated retailers sell past seasons, factory seconds, surplus stock etc. directly to the consumer, without using retail businesses as (intermediate) distributive channels. All products are sold with a discount to the original high-street price of at least 25 %, whereas double-pricing ("High Street Price" / "Outlet Price") is ruled by the leasing contract. The marketing targets a supraregional area and customers from far away are also addressed. The coordination, organisation and marketing of an outlet centre is carried out by a centre management.

The overview presented in this survey includes all those centres that are, currently either in operation or planned, that correspond to the above definition of Outlet Centres. For this reason, the Outlet Center Wadgassen (www.outlet-wadgassen.de), the A6 Fashion Place in Herrieden (www.a6-fashionplace.de), or among other sites, the Outlet Center Eben in Austria (<https://outletcentereben.com/>) have been excluded from the list of centres in operation. Nevertheless, these centres are listed, but not under the heading of properties in operation.

At the same time such concepts like Outletcity Metzingen (www.outletcity-metzingen.com) or the City Outlet Bad Münstereifel (www.cityoutletbadmuenstereifel.com)² are not covered by the definition above. Following the request of many brand manufacturers, who were on the search for market data and informations for such projects ecostra presented with "Organized Outlet Agglomeration" (OOA) a definition for such a retail format that does have various features similar to those of an outlet centre but at the same time is different in many aspects. OOA can be distinguished from Outlet Centres by the following features:

² The City Outlet Bad Münstereifel is the first professionally organized outlet concept using already existing historical buildings in the high streets of a city.

- There is no coordinately-planned or spatially-interrelated complex of buildings. Such common features can refer to some sections of the object, but not the whole. This is most obvious by differences in architecture and missing common functional areas, e.g. heating, storage, waste.
- There are other uses – e.g. services, retail businesses, gastronomy, flats – located between the outlet stores of the OOA. These premises are not necessarily jointly owned by the investor of the OOA nor are they necessarily leased by the operator of the OOA.
- There are public roads, streets and pavements passing through the area where the outlets are located.
- Other than a more or less random agglomeration of outlet stores, an OOA does have a centre-management, which is responsible for marketing and sometimes even for leasing of the object.
- All other features correspond to those of an Outlet Centre (see definition above).

The following survey of existing and planned Outlet Centres and Organized Outlet Agglomerations in Europe is intended to help improve transparency on the retail trade market. This survey is free of charge and is available to everyone without any limitations as a PDF-download at the ecostra-website. The overview has been compiled according to the best of ecostra's knowledge and is updated approximately every 3 months. Front page

The cover page of this issue of the market-survey shows the "Designer Outlet Salzburg". The property is situated in the municipality of Wals-Siezenheim, near Salzburg (Austria), in the immediate vicinity of Salzburg Airport and the A1 motorway (Munich – Salzburg – Vienna). It is also embedded in a large agglomeration of other retail businesses.

In 1993, the multi-storey "Airportcenter" shopping centre, with a gross lettable area (GLA) of approximately 44,000 m², opened at this site. Partly due to competition from the highly successful "Europark" shopping centre – situated just one motorway exit away – the "Airportcenter" came under increasing pressure and shop vacancies began to mount up. Against this backdrop, the owner, Wiener Städtische Versicherung AG, decided to demolish large sections of the centre and build an outlet centre in its place. McArthurGlen, which had already established a successful outlet centre in Parndorf in eastern Austria, came on board as the operator and co-investor.

As the site was already zoned for a shopping centre in the local development plan, the planning permission process proved relatively straightforward, despite massive opposition from the regional retail sector and the Chamber of Commerce. On 10th September 2009, the Designer Outlet Salzburg opened as a mall-style centre with two sales levels (in total approx. 23,000 m² retail sales area resp. 28,000 m² GLA). The building's architecture is modelled on the style of 19th-century department stores. The slightly more than 100 shops are visited by approximately 2.2 million people each year. A total of 2,200 car parking spaces are housed in a multi-storey car park directly adjoining the outlet centre building.

The brand mix of the centre focuses on the mid-price to upmarket segment. Despite the province of Salzburg's positioning as a sports destination (primarily skiing, hiking and climbing), the range of sports-related offerings in the centre is rather limited. This certainly constitutes a weakness of the centre.

In ecostra's Outlet Centre Performance Report Europe, the Designer Outlet Salzburg consistently ranks in the middle of the table. In 2025, it was ranked 64th in Europe.

Project was opened on 10th September 2009. Approx. 2,200 parking spaces. Some years ago, there were plans to extend the centre to the neighbouring site of the former Baumaxx DIY-Store. In October 2015 construction work started to connect both centres. Parallel to that, the centre was re-designed in the style of die Viennas' art nouveau. At the end of 2016 the management-contract with ROS was cancelled. Today, the company Ekazent, which usually operates classic shopping centres, is responsible for the management.

Leobersdorf (Lower Austria)	FOC	closed	Leoville Premium Outlet	European Outlet AG			10.000	Project put into operation as part of a "Soft Opening" in May 2005. However, due to the intensive competition and unsuitable market positioning, the centre had not fulfilled expectations. As of 31.07.2008, contract cancellation agreements were concluded with the remaining tenants and the operation of the OC provisionally closed down. In mid-2011, the object was taken over by Christian Blazek, the entrepreneur and patron of the arts. The centre was relaunched as a lifestyle centre under the name of "Bloomfield". Opening of this lifestyle centre took place at 17th October 2013. This lifestyle centre showed an increasing vacancy and closed doors in 2019.
Reutte (Tyrol)	OOA	cancelled	City Outlet Reutte	n.s.			8.500	In the city centre of Reutte, there are a lot of empty shops. To solve this problem a group of local actors intend to establish an outlet centre concept comparable to those in Bad Münstereifel (Germany). At the end of April 2016, the results of a feasibility study were presented to the local council. Due to the fact, that it wasn't possible to create a critical mass of shops the project was given up.
Eben im Pongau (Salzburg)	FOC	missed threshold for sales area	Outlet Center Eben	FOC Retail Service GmbH	R&B Immobilienverwaltungsgesellschaft / TAP Immobilien Vermögensverwaltung GmbH / Outlet Evolution Services	5.500	4.000	Location at a site in immediate proximity to the A10 (Tauern-Motorway). Messancy	FOC	operating	Designer Outlet Luxembourg	ROS Retail Outlet Shopping	ImRaum Immobilien	16.800	15.000	Opened in 2003; approx. 1,000 parking spaces. In the first years of trading, the centre generated unsatisfactory results and was sold to Henderson by Intervest Retail for only € 12 million in November 2007. With that, a change of operator took place, from GL Outlet to McArthurGlen. The centre was restructured and underwent a relaunch. It was reopened in April 2011. In September 2022, the austrian company ImRaum Immobilien acquired the centre; with it management changed from McArthurGlen to ROS.
Ghent	FOC	cancelled	McArthurGlen Designer Outlet Ghent	McArthurGlen	Banimmo / Schoonmeers Bugten	31.500	28.000	As part of the development of a new city district "The Loop", an Outlet Centre is planned. Together with it a leisure park (14.500 m ²), a big box retail park (6.300 m ²) and offices (21.000 m ²) are scheduled. The Outlet Centre will have approx. 3.000 parking bays in an underground car park. The building permit for the first phase has been granted in January 2015, but the start of construction work was delayed again and again. The joint venture between the developer McArthurGlen and the Belgian property company Banimmo has collapsed. Following years of delays, caused in part by local protests, the city of Ghent has finally rejected the project.
Tubize	FOC	uncertain	Tubize Outlet Mall	Startconcept Outlet Management	Samfi Invest / DCI / Sampace / TORG The Outlet Ressource Group	14.000	12.000	In the municipality of Tubize, located approx. 25 km southwest of Brussels, a mixed project development (including flats, offices, services, retail) is planned on a former industrial site under the name "Quartier des Confluents", which will also include an outlet centre. The site has a connection to the E19 motorway and will have about 1,100 underground parking spaces. Opening was originally scheduled for 2023/2024, but has been postponed until 2029. Following financial difficulties and a halt to the project, a new group of investors took over the planning in early 2026 to revise the concept.

In March 2022 the CDAC delayed the decision for another year, because the neighbouring city centres were already struggling with a severe vacancy problem. Today the project is considered to have failed. After years of struggling to secure planning permission and numerous delays to the start of construction, the project has finally come to a standstill.

The outlet center is to be supplemented by a hotel and an office complex. Around 2,800 parking spaces in an underground parking garage. In February 2026, the planning permission for the project was revoked by the relevant administrative court, which upheld the objections raised by a neighbouring municipality. The municipality had primarily raised environmental concerns. The investor has announced that it will appeal against this ruling to the Council of State (Conseil d'État). Meanwhile, there is also a legal dispute between the town of Antibes and the investor over outstanding payments for the purchase of the land. As a result, the project is now hanging in the balance.

Soltau (Lower Saxony)	FOC	operating	Designer Outlet Soltau	ROS Retail Outlet Shopping	Mutschler Group / Resolution Property	13.500	9.900	Centre opened on 30th August 2012. In March 2015 the town council of Soltau decided to extend the centres retail sales area to 20,000 m ² . In 2017 the state government decided not to change the state development plan, which is a pre-condition for such an extension. In May 2018 the owner of the Designer Outlet Soltau took legal action against this decision. In June 2019 the administrative court of Lüneburg decided that the state government should allow for the possibility of carrying out an authorisation procedure. In October 2019, the investor reached an agreement with the state government that an extension of 5000 m ² would be possible. Neighbouring cities announced their opposition. The regional planning procedure was completed in March 2023 and concluded that the expansion plan violates various objectives of the state development programme and therefore requires a procedure to deviate from the objectives. In February 2024 the local press reported that there are indications that the state of Lower Saxony will refuse the permission to extend the centre. These rumors were confirmed at the end of April 2024, when the authorities decided not to authorise the planned expansion. The owner of the centre challenged this decision in court. In June 2026, the Lüneburg Administrative Court dismissed the claims brought by the centre's owner. The case will now be referred to the Higher Administrative Court of Lower Saxony, although a date for the hearing has not yet been set.

In November 2015 McArthurGlen and Hütten Holding announced that from 2016 on they will partner. McArthurGlen now has the majority share and is responsible for the management. In June 2016 neighbouring cities formed an alliance against the projected extension and announced to fight this in court. At the end of September 2017 the city council of Ochtrup decided to change the plans for land use to enable the extension. In June 2018 the district government decided to approve the change in the land use plan. Start of construction was at first scheduled for 2018 and opening of the extension for 2019, but was delayed due to a legal dispute with neighbouring cities. In October 2020 the Higher Administrative Court of Northrhine-Westfalia ruled, that the building plan is invalid due to various mistakes. The city of Ochtrup and McArthurGlen made an appeal to the Federal Administrative Court, but - due to the decision of this court in regard to the McArthurGlen plans in Remscheid - the investor cancelled this project too. So this centre will remain with the already existing size.

Remscheid (Northrhine-Westfalia)	FOC	advanced planning phase	Outlet Remscheid	Fashion Outlet Grundbesitz		24.000	18.000	First, an OC was planned in the Blume / Felder Höhe business park at the Lennep / Lüttringhausen motorway junction. In August 2012 the regional planning authority rejected the change of the regional development plan. The city of Remscheid announced to fight this decision in court. But in November 2012 McArthurGlen and the city representatives decided to switch the planned location to a site close to the Remscheid suburb of Lennep. In June 2014 the regional planning authority signalled that the project in size and location is in accordance with the aims of the spatial development plan of Northrhine-Westfalia. But in 2015 the neighbouring city Wuppertal announced, that they will realize an own outlet centre (see Wuppertal). This resulted in a race between the two cities to be the first outlet centre in the region. In July 2016, Wuppertal filed a lawsuit against Remscheid for want of considering the impact of the planned outlet centre at the inner-city of Wuppertal. In December 2016 the local council of Remscheid approved the building plan. In February 2018 McArthurGlen announced to delay the start of construction work until the court has decided about the claim of neighbouring Wuppertal. For this court session McArthurGlen ordered a new impact study, which was the 4th such study on this project. Soon after, rumors indicated that Wuppertal cancelled its plans for an outlet centre. In September 2019 Wuppertal provided an impact study which said that the outlet in Remscheid will have a negative impact on Wuppertal city centre. This study recommends the outlet centre to be reduced in size. In 2020 the council of Wuppertal decided not to oppose the Remscheid project anymore. Still, there was a lawsuit of a neighbour, who feared among others increased traffic at the site. In October 2020, the Higher Administrative Court of Northrhine-Westfalia ruled that the building-plan is invalid due to various mistakes, but offered the possibility to appeal against this rule at the Federal Administrative Court. At the end of January 2022, the Federal Administrative Court rejected the appeal and confirmed the ruling of the lower court. The development plan for the

At the beginning of March 2023, the city council announced that it would resume planning at the site in Lennep with the owner of the outlet centre in Montabaur and now wants to develop a centre with approx. 18,000 m² of retail space there. At the same time, McArthurGlen also declared that they intend start the project again. Only a few weeks later, McArthurGlen informed the city that they wanted to withdraw their renewed application after all and thus give a new investor a chance. Now the process to get a building permit is well ahead. In August 2024 in investor announced that the application will be reduced to 15,000 m² retail sales area. The remaining 3,000 m² sales area will be applied for in the following years after opening the 1st phase. Opening of the 1st phase is expected for 2027.
Wadgassen (Saarland)	FOC	missed threshold for sales area	Outlet Center Wadgassen	Munitor Group	Munitor Group	4.500	3.800	Located on the grounds of the former Cristallerie glass factory. The existing factory outlet of Villeroy & Boch is enlarged by further Outlet Shops. In May 2009, the developer IBS announced rescheduling and – without giving reasons - that the realisation of the project was to be postponed indefinitely. In 2011 a new developer - the Munitor Group - started construction work at the location. The soft opening of the whole centre has taken place on 20th September 2012, the grand opening was at 4th October 2012 with a total sales area of about 3,800 m². The developer announced to extend the centre soon. Despite the opening of the centre the neighbouring city of Saarlouis filed a court case to fight the building permit but the claim was rejected by court. Still, there was some uncertainty whether or not Saarlouis will go to court again. In December 2017 the developer and the city of Saarlouis reached an agreement, that allows the extension of the centre up to a total sales area of about 5,000 m². But so far construction work on the site hasn't started yet.

Selb (Bavaria)	FOC	operating	Outlet Center Selb	CMR Center Management Group	Munitor Group	6.000	5.000	At this site, the company headquarters and production facilities of the china and household goods manufacturer Villeroy & Boch were located. Here since July 2001, in parts of the former factory building, with the "Factory In", a small-scale hybrid of an outlet and off-price centre was operating. In order to improve the centre and to add more outlet stores, an approval procedure to extend this centre was started. In October 2009, the Bavarian Council of Ministers approved the submitted enlargement up to 11.800 m ² sales area. The lawsuits announced by neighbouring towns against this enlargement were withdrawn soon after. Construction work started in September 2012, but no real progress could be observed for quite some time. In 2015 the developer Munitor Group acquired the project and demolished the existing buildings. At the same time Munitor Group announced plans to enlarge the centre significantly by using grounds of the adjacent city centre of Selb. The city council supports this project, because a positive impulse for the depressed inner-city high streets is expected. Construction work started in spring 2018 with the conversion of the former production hall (so-called "Ofenhalle"); this first development with approx. 5,000 m ² SA phase opened on 1st April 2019. The 2nd development phase was supposed to open in summer / autumn 2021, but this had to be delayed due to the corona crisis and interruptions of the construction work. The 3rd development phase will connect the project directly with the city centre of Selb and will lead to a total sales area of about 20,000 m ² . After completion, the "Outlet Centre Selb" will be one of the biggest outlet centres in Germany. But so far only slow progress in construction work can be seen.

Grafschaft (Rhine-land-Palatinate)	FOC	cancelled	Ahrtal The Style Outlets	Neinver			9.900	In the Grafschaft locality of Ringen, an OC was planned in the Innovationspark Rheinland; a market hall with approx. 3,000 – 5,000 m ² SA for regional products (e.g. wine) is planned as an additional facility. Various surrounding towns have announced their opposition to the project. In the meantime the proposed developer went bankrupt and the city was looking for a new investor. Various renowned operators signalled their interest and in May 2012 it was revealed that Neinver is supposed to be the new operator. Some time ago there were initiatives to pursue this project jointly together with the neighbouring city of Bad Neuenahr-Ahrweiler. But in June 2012 the town council of Bad Neuenahr-Ahrweiler rejected the offer to cooperate made by Grafschaft. After that the city of Grafschaft pursued the project on its own and Neinver secured all the necessary parcels. At the end of 2018 the city council announced to carry out a citizens vote about this project, but in 2019 the city council decided not to support the development of an outlet centre anymore.

In spring 2009, the Bavarian Dept. of Trade and Industry refused to allow proceedings to obtain permission to deviate from a planning objective to be started. However meanwhile, according to the available information, permission has been granted for enlargement by 1,300 m ² SA to reach 5,000 m ² SA. It still has to be reviewed whether or not this centre corresponds with ecostras definition of an outlet centre.

Then Neighbouring towns immediately announced their opposition in the so-called "Hamm declaration". After the dissolution of MAB Development Neinver pursued this project on its own. In September 2014 the planning-commission of the city of Werl decided to start the planning procedure. All necessary studies for the application to receive a building permit were completed. In March 2015 the state government announced that the project is not in compliance with the aims of the state development plan. In May 2016 the regional government refused to accept changes in the preparatory land-use plan. The city of Werl filed a court case. In June 2017, the administrative court of Arnsberg rejected the claim of the city of Werl without the permission to appeal. As a consequence Werl took action for approval of the appeal at the Supreme Administrative Court in Münster. In May 2018 this Supreme Administrative Court decided to grant this appeal. In November 2018 the Supreme Administrative Court decided to reject the claim. In February 2019 the city administration announced not to pursue this project anymore.

Construction work started in May 2012 by the demolition of some buildings. Opening took place on 14th August 2014. Currently the investors are extending the centre by the acquisition of additional stores in the city centre. At the same time they are lobbying for the permit of sunday opening. This object doesn't correspond to ecostras definition of an outlet centre and has to be classified as an outlet agglomeration. The City Outlet Bad Münstereifel was almost completely destroyed by the flood disaster in July 2021. After repairing the damage and renovating the shops, the City Outlet reopened on 30 June 2022. In August 2024 an extension with an additional 1,400 m ² GLA opened. Another extension with approx. 1,200 m ² GLA is planned. In March 2026 the Urban Development Committee of Bad Münstereifel voted in favor to proceed with the extension plans.
Wilhelmshaven (Niedersachsen)	FOC	cancelled	Wilhelms Outlet	n.s.	Kaiser-Wilhelm-Objekt GmbH & Co. KG / Jan D. Leuze	12.000	6.500	Initially there were plans to change the existing manufactory buildings of the fashion brand Barutti in the Ebert Strasse in Wilhelmshaven into a rather small-sized outlet centre. Because an impact study showed that the high street retailers will be confronted with severe reductions in turnover due to this outlet centre, the town major came up with the idea to move the project to a new site: the former C&A-parcel in the city centre. The demolition of the former C&A-building and construction work for the new building with 60 shops on 2 sales floors started in spring 2016. The building permit for the new centre was issued in February 2017. But no construction work started so far. In March 2018 the city council set a final deadline for the developer to prove a sufficient quote of leased space and to start construction work. After the investor failed to show a secured financing of the project, in April 2018 the city administration decided to cancel the outlet project and to develop alternative uses at the site.

There are other outlet stores closeby and between the Outletcity AG-owned buildings that are not integrated in the marketing-concept of the Outletcity. In February 2015 the regional council finished a regional planning procedure about the possible extension of the centre with a positive decision to add outlet stores with a total of 10,745 m ² SA to the Outletcity Metzingen. In March 2015 the neighbouring cities of Reutlingen and Tübingen announced to file a court case against the decision of the regional council. One year later, in March 2016, an agreement was reached with the neighbouring cities to abstain from a lawsuit. Construction work for the extension started in 2017 and opening of this phase took place in April and September 2019. In September 2016 the project received the construction permit. The sale of the site was made under the condition that the developer will have to prove financing and a leasing rate of about 50 % before the transfer of ownership will take place. In February 2018 the city of Gelnhausen announced that the developer had failed to provide this proof so far and extended the deadline by 1 month. Finally in March 2018 the developer provided both, an investor and the leasing quote. But, in April 2018 the payment deadline passed. At the end of April 2018 the city administration provided with the Munich based ITP Group and the Leipzig based GRK Group two new investors. In September 2018 the city council first decided in favour of the GRK Group, but withdrew later. In May 2019 it was announced that the plans to establish an outlet centre were finally cancelled and instead offices and other uses would be built on the site.

The well-preserved historic city centre is worth seeing, has a very good quality of stay, is already a stopover for Elbe tourism and is considered the gateway to Saxon Switzerland. By integrating outlet stores into the city centre, the aim is to follow the example of Bad Münstereifel and - in addition to the existing, well developed gastronomy - bring back retail. To push the project, a local action group has formed. A feasibility study presented in early June 2024 came to the conclusion that Pirna meets the necessary preconditions to successfully implement such a retail concept. In December 2024, a project and operating company was founded and the city council passed a resolution to support this project in principle. Echternach (Canton Echternach)	OOA	uncertain	City Outlet Center Echternach	n.s.		7.000	5.500	In the historical city center of Echternach, there is an increasing number of vacancies. Following the example of Bad Münstereifel, in 2017 the local town council decided to establish a city outlet center. A feasibility study showed that such a concept is sustainable not only because of the good touristic positioning of Echternach but also that there is the possibility for Sunday opening throughout the year. According to available information the project didn't make any progress for years. The announced opening dates were repeatedly postponed. Then there were reports that the first lease agreements had already been signed, though this was never subsequently confirmed. As recent press reports from April 2026 now reveal, the city has already invested €3 million in the project, of which a single consultant has pocketed €1.6 million. This consultant has since left the project. Now, the first pop-up shops are set to open, with their rents subsidised by the city for a specific period. It appears that the project can no longer be implemented and that only one person has benefited: the consultant.

The location is situated at the motorway exit Zevenaar-East of the motorway A 12 (resp. A 3 in Germany). The town council issued a building permit in March 2015, but the province administration is still trying to stop the project on the basis of ecological aspects. In April 2015 the province objected the plans of the city of Zevenaar. In May 2016 the state council ("Raad van State") overruled the decision of the province. A motorway-access will have to be constructed, before the site will start operation. In April 2017 the city of Zevenaar finally gave green lights for the project. The building permit was issued on 18th April 2019. Opening was scheduled for 2022, but had to be delayed again and again. According to available information, there was a problem with the connection of the site to the road system. This problem seems to be solved by now. In a first step a Plus-supermarket opened on the site. Construction work for the Outlet Centre is supposed to start towards the end of 2026. Opening is expected for 2028. The project will have the possibility to open Sundays throughout the year. On the site 2,200 parking spaces are planned.
